OBSERVATIONS

ON A TRIP TO BOURBON COUNTY.

West of Little Rock, I mile, we saw havened by the hurning of his mest house. At incendiry did the work. When we reached the gate we knew, (for there was his name, "B. F. liop-kine." Soldom we see on the gates the names of the owner. We suggest to all farmer who lets things go loose, gates broken, fence down, mowing machines exposed to snow and rais, farming utensile hauging on trees and subscription for your paper not paid.

We had not seen our friend Lawle Rogers for a long time, so we drove into his spacious yard where work-men were cutting down as oak tree. He instead that we have a lunch-sidinner was over—and we yielded. He instead that we have a lunch-sidinner was over—and we yielded. His wife was Miss Iva, daughter of Mr. Julian Alien, banker, of Milian-bird, Their two sone, Harry Allen and Julian G, are due and three pares of the work of Milian of the control of the pare farmer bout Julian is still undecided. McCarty, of Lexiugton, have been visiting Mrs. B. F. Mark.

The intended Demoratic precluct convention for Startisty was not held as the farmers did not some out.

We pald our respects to the merchants of the town and to Lowis Price the smith and wood workman.

On Thursday night the family of Duulsy Gay, uear Sideview, was awkened by the burning of his meat house. An incendary did the work and had evidently robbed the house. The loss includes 30 gallons of lard and 14 pieces of meat. The lumber room was also burned.

We reached home at six o'clock.

No other aid so great to the housewife, no other agent so useful and certain in making delicious, pure and wholesome foods, has ever been devised.

A woman's appearance must suggest that quality expressed in the shang of the days as "wed" grounded."

For driving and coaching we now limitate the good sense and practical utility of English women's dress. No gauze parasols, no dainty furbelows, as smooth as glass. We have them but garments that fear neither sun, rain or dust.—July Ladies' Home Lournal.

Legislation to Protect Birds.

The protection of birds is a national, not a local, question. It deals largely with migratory spe-cies which breed in one section, winter in another and traverse sevwinter in another and traverse everal states in passing to and from their breeding grounds. Legislation on this subject belongs primarily to the states, but if it is to accomplish its purpose there must be on this suggest to the states, but if it is to accomplish its purpose there must be greater harmony of action. With the exception of Alaska, every state and territory has its bird law, but Ariz, I. T., Itaho and N. M. protect only game, and Fla. only gems and plume birds. In Canada, except P. E. There are 1125 species and subspecies of birds that inhabit Anserlea north of Mexico and of these only 18 per centare game birds. Sportsmen class centare game birds. Sportsmen class birds as gaue or non-game birds, but for legislative purposes they may be divided into three groups: (1) Species which may be protect-ed at all times, known as song or which may be some for food or sport, known as game birds, (3) species which are injurious and therefore excluded from protection, such as the English sparrow. A review of the protective legislation, together with the etate laws now in force, has been prepared by T. S. Palmer of the U. S. biological survey, and recently published by the U.
